Audience
Developers interested in a solution to build Java web applications and business programs

About CaptainCasa Enterprise Client
Rapid development and cost-effective maintenance of web applications with server-side Java. The developer uses only this most widely used development language; no html, css or javascript knowledge is required for backend programming.

Unique clear separation of UI design and logical processing. Integration of Java business logic into the design through expression language and event control.

Numerous and exceptional components create a unique overall look: unlimited use of additional CSS or JavaScript on design side. Of course, the

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying a WordPress blog page. The browser's address bar shows the URL <https://funthomas424242.wordpress.com/tag/captaincasa/>. The page header identifies the site as 'FunThomas Blog (de)' and 'Entwickler Blog'. The main content area is titled 'Schlagwort-Archiv: CaptainCasa' and features a list of posts. The first post is 'XII. Captain Casa Community Meeting' dated '6. Dezember 2016 – 14:40'. The post content begins with 'Seit ich vor 8 Jahren im Java Magazin einen Artikel von Björn Müller gelesen hatte, interessiere ich mich für das Captain Casa Framework. Die Captain Casa GmbH führt seit Ihrer Gründung 2007 jährlich ein Community Meeting durch. Auf diesem treffen sich Nutzer und Lizenznehmer der Captain Casa GmbH, sowie Partner als auch generell Rich Client Interessierte. Zu Letzteren zähle ich mich und so nutze ich hin und wieder die Möglichkeit am Treffen teilzunehmen. 2016 bot sich für mich zur Teilnahme an, da bereits in der Vorankündigung große Dinge, in Worten „RISC HTML“ ihre glänzenden Strahlen vorausschickten.' The page also includes a sidebar with a 'Flattr this' button, a 'Free Software Foundation Europe' logo, and a search bar.
